ForLife:

Life begins:

From start to finish: day to day, extraordinary circumstances,
past, present or future.
Sprints and marathons.
Swings and roundabouts.

Macdonald Henderson is focused in guiding and delivering to their clients at all stages of their business or personal lives. As a firm which has been established for over 20 years, we've seen the good times come and go: not only do we have the experience to weather the storms, but we've got plenty of knowledge and a track record to make the most of the calm seas too.

Whether you work in the corporate world, are a business owner, or an individual looking for legal expertise and assistance, Macdonald Henderson works with you to ensure that life continues whatever challenges the world sends in your direction.

We pride ourselves on making things as straightforward as possible, and speaking in a language that we all understand. There are those who enjoy making life difficult, hiding behind jargon and the way things have "always been." And then there are those who want to add a personal touch to a professional service, who are clever and commercial, without making life too complicated.

Meet Macdonald Henderson.

Our life:

Commercial Lawyers for Commercial Clients

Our entrepreneurial approach ensures we strike the right balance for your company, providing comprehensive legal solutions with commercial awareness. After all, you have a business to run.

We love to talk, which is just as well – we know that good communication forms strong relationships, which is why we often work closely with our clients throughout their business lives.

From conception and incorporation to expansion and restructuring, buy-outs, buy-ins, dispute resolution, and corporate divorce: we're here every step of the way, and have the experience – and stamina – to take you where you want to go.

Of course, we do enjoy helping our clients with their work/life balance, and we're well placed to take care of both your business and personal needs to deliver for all of life's eventualities.

Our services for your life:

Corporate
Mergers & Acquisitions
Commercial Property
Corporate Recovery
Commercial Disputes
Employment & Benefits
Intellectual Property
Private Client Services

Specialising in corporate and commercial property legal work, Macdonald Henderson work in partnership with large, small, new and expanding businesses: providing expert advice at a reasonable price and, of course, with a personal approach.

We have an excellent track record in delivering for our clients because our flexible, tailored solutions work well in the real world: we should know. We live there.
